The IndieCan 10K Film Challenge

Who says you need millions of dollars to make a film? Producer Avi Federgreen's Indiecan Entertainment has launched INDIECAN10K, a challenge that aimed to kick-off first-time feature filmmakers' careers by providing mentorship throughout the development process, $10,000 in financing, and support in each stage from pre-production, to production, and post.

The results? Check out these films below, coming soon to a theatre near you...
