

Short:

A group of students go hiking in the mountains of Siberia, close to the border with Mongolia. One day during a difficult climb, they are caught in a deadly landslide that kills their friend...or so they thought until the body mysteriously turns up.

Long:

A group of students go hiking into the mountains of Siberia, close to the border with Mongolia. One day on a very difficult climb, the group leader Olle gets lost in a lethal landslide. His team presume he's dead so they forge on to the nearest village for help. The locals mistrust them and they end up in jail, and then things go from bad to worse when Olle's body mysteriously show up. Has the local legend come true?

Under 150:

While hiking in the mountains of Siberia, a deadly landslide kills one of the hikers...or so they thought until the body mysteriously turns up.