

Synopsis

Cable Synopsis: [Sentence] A ripped-from-the-headlines documentary risks raising the ire of a major world leader by exploring who and what is On Putin's Blacklist.

Short Synopsis: [Sentence]

Option 1: Through the personal stories of the victims of Putin's anti-Western rhetoric this timely documentary paints an honest portrait of the Russian president and the part he's played in constructing a new Cold War.

Option 2: This timely documentary shows how Russia's democratic reversal has ushered in the new Cold War leaving innocent victims in the wake of Putin's anti-Western rhetoric including defenseless orphans, LGBTQ, journalists and activists.

Long Synopsis: [Paragraph]

On Putin's Blacklist presents the reality of how an adoption ban of Russian orphans to US citizens came about and how it was the first step in Russia's new Cold War with America. Soon enough this adoption ban was expanded to all countries that allow same-sex unions and combined Kremlin's anti-adoption campaign with anti-LGBT. Next victims were the NGOs and Human Rights Groups followed by Russian opposition. Anyone on Putin's Blacklist is labeled as American spy, a foreign agent controlled by Western intelligence agencies with the aim of destroying Russia. This is how Putin is able to control the populace, by creating enemies for Russian's to hate. With Donald Trump as president, the world is staring at an unclear future. Can Russia reverse its trajectory of persecuting opposition and vilifying the West or will Donald Trump accept Russia as is and legitimize Putin's regime.