Logline

When sisters Alma and Alex follow Mother for a hunting trip, a series of events begin in which they discover the truth about the Shaodws and their own reality

A young woman with long, wavy brown hair is shown in profile, looking upwards with a contemplative expression. She is positioned in a lush, green forest, with moss-covered tree trunks and leaves visible in the background. The lighting is soft and natural, highlighting her features and the surrounding foliage.

Synopsis

Hidden in the darkness of the forest, teenage sisters Alma and Alex live in an old, abandoned hotel together with their strict Mother, who shields them from outside dangers. As time passes, a new awareness dawns on the two girls, pressing them into breaking the rules and the apparent balance of their life, bringing a disturbing secret to light.

Carlo Lavagna – Director

Carlo Lavagna was born in Rome. He studied philosophy first at La Sapienza University and then at RUK, in Copenhagen. He lived between Europe and the US before going back to Italy, where he directed his first feature film Arianna. The film screened at the 2015 Venice Film Festival, during the Giornate degli Autori, and won the Laguna Sud Award as Best Italian Discovery, as well as Best Actress at the Globi D'Oro. The film earned a nomination as Best Debut Director at the 2016 David di Donatello Awards.

As both director and producer, he made short movies and documentaries which screened at various festivals, such as Venice, BFI London, Locarno, Göteborg, Rotterdam, Lincoln Center, Guadalajara, and many others. In 2018, he directed 12 episodes of the TV show Dark Polo Gang – La Serie, about a major Italian trap music band. Carlo currently works with the New York Times, Dazed and Confused, Vogue and Nowness, directing videos for their respective channels. He also makes short documentaries for Vice, Discovery, MTV, PBS, Hantang, Rai, and other international broadcasters. He directed the short L'Unico for the Maison Valentino, and other shorts and commercials for Bulgari, Max Mara, Dolce & Gabbana, and Gucci. Shadows, his second feature film casting Lola Petticrew and Saskia Reeves, also introduces Mia Threapleton at her debut performance. Lavagna is now working on his next film, Golden Desert (Cruel Destiny), while developing HBO Max TV show Arcana Imperii.
