

Log Line

In the rapidly changing landscape of Shibuya, three young women — an aspiring model, a magazine editor, and a musician — navigate life, dreams, and friendship while sharing a house and confronting the realities of adult life in Tokyo.

Short Synopsis

Three roommates in Shibuya navigate life and dreams before their home is demolished.

Long Synopsis

Set in Shibuya, Tokyo—a city rapidly changing due to redevelopment—three young women live together in an old house scheduled for demolition. Ai dreams of becoming a model, Mizuho works in a magazine editorial department, and Erika is a musician. As they navigate their personal struggles and pursuit of dreams, they receive an eviction notice. The story explores their modest daily lives, worries, and the fragile happiness found in an ever-changing city before they are forced to move on.