

Synopsis - Full

Belle returns to her rural Nova Scotia home for her father's funeral. Having caused her mother Nancy considerable consternation when she came out as a lesbian teen, Belle is now desperate to keep secret from her mother that she's been in a relationship with a man for the last two years.

Synopsis - Abbreviated

After coming out as a gay teen and the later unrelated death of her father, Belle must now return home to her reluctantly accepting mother and confront their untended relationship.

Synopsis - One Line

After the death of her father, a young woman must come to terms with her strained relationship with her mother.
