

Log line

When cuddly, emerald-blue extraterrestrials sent to exterminate humanity touch down in Tokyo, their unexpected encounters with vulnerable Earthlings transform their mission of annihilation into a surreal journey of mutual understanding.

Short Synopsis

Furry aliens sent to destroy Earth are swayed by encounters with humans.

Long synopsis

Colourful furry aliens (the "Moja") come to Earth on a mission to destroy it as punishment for humanity's destructive behavior. They encounter various humans, and through conversations about the planet's inhabitants' concerns and aspirations, the aliens' opinions slowly change. A profound interspecies friendship forms while the clock continues to tick down to the scheduled annihilation. The film is an omnibus format, blending comedy with drama and the strange with the down-to-earth.
