Logline: Cliff is an eccentric young man looking for love in all the wrong places. When his estranged birth mother, Marg, shows up unexpectedly, they quickly bond. but she has her share of secrets and ulterior motives and is being followed into town by vengeful figure from her past.

Synopsis:

Cliff is an eccentric young man living a remote desert town, pining after an ex and looking for love in all the wrong places. When his estranged birth mother, Marg, shows up unexpectedly, they quickly start to bond and he thinks he's finally found someone he can relate to. But she comes with her share of secrets and ulterior motives and has been followed into town by vengeful figure from her past. Soon, Cliff is swept up in a wild misadventure across the desert.

Set against the scenic backdrop of a dusty desert town, the film is about eccentric misfits struggling to find connection.